2020 · WHAT ISSUES SHOULD I CONSIDER TO FUND MY CHILD'S COLLEGE EDUCATION?

Invest with integrity.

FINANCIAL AID ISSUES	YES	NO
Do you need help determining which financial aid form to complete (FAFSA, CSS, 568 group)? If so, consider contacting each school to verify which forms must be completed.
 If completing FAFSA, do you need help estimating your Expected Family Contribution (EFC)? If so, consider the following: The income and assets of a child will impact EFC more than the parent's income and assets. Income is based on prior, prior year (for 2020, figures will be based on 2018 income). Asset values are based on the day the FAFSA is submitted. Distributions from 529 plans owned by the child or grandparent will count as income of the child.
 Are you divorced or separated from your spouse? If so, consider the following: Schools that use FAFSA will consider the income and assets of the custodial parent. Schools that use the CSS Profile may also require information from the non-custodial parent.
Has your financial situation changed since the financial aid decision? If so, consider appealing the financial aid decision.

FUNDING ISSUES	YES	NO
Does the cost of college exceed your Expected Family Contribution as calculated by FAFSA? If so, Federal student aid such as Pell Grants, work-study programs and FSEOG may be awarded.] [
 Do you hope to find grants, scholarships or awards? If so, consider the following: ■ Complete the FAFSA form as it is used by colleges and states to determine need and eligibility. (continue on next column)

FUNDING ISSUES (CONTINUED)	YES	NO
 Apply early as many awards are given on a first-come, first-serve basis. Consider looking for awards either online, at college, affinity groups, professional or civic organizations.
Do you expect relatives (such as grandparents) to gift money? If so, many of the gifts (including distributions from 529 plans owned by non-family members) will be treated as income of the child, which will impact needs-based financial aid eligibility if used more than two years before graduation.
Does your child expect to become an elementary or secondary teacher? If so, your child may be eligible for a TEACH Grant if the school has a TEACH-Grant program.
Did you or your spouse serve (or currently serve) in the military? If so, your child may be eligible for certain benefits.
Would your child consider military service? If so, the Reserve Officers' Training Corps will cover most college expenses as long as the child serves at least four years in active duty and four years in reserves.
Do you expect to need a loan to cover additional education related expenses? If so, consider loans with the most favorable terms, which are generally in this order: Federal Direct Subsidized Loans (needs based), Federal Direct Unsubsidized Loans, Federal Direct PLUS Loans, and Private loans (banks, colleges, states).
Will your child have loans and plan to work in the government or for a non-profit for 10 years? If so, your child may be eligible for Public Service Loan Forgiveness.

2020 · WHAT ISSUES SHOULD I CONSIDER TO FUND MY CHILD'S COLLEGE EDUCATION?

Invest with integrity.

QUALIFIED ACCOUNT ISSUES	YES	NO
 Do you have an IRA, Roth IRA, or qualified employer plan? If so, consider the following: Distributions from a Traditional IRA to pay for education expenses may be subject to ordinary income taxes but there is no 10% penalty. Distributions from a Roth IRA to pay for education expenses may be subject to ordinary income taxes on the gain element but there is no 10% penalty. Distributions from an IRA or Roth IRA may impact needs-based financial aid eligibility if used more than two years before college graduation. Some employer plans, such as a 401(k), allow employees to take loans. There are no tax ramifications for the loan and a loan does not count as income on the FAFSA, however it may count as an asset if not spent.
 Do you have a 529 Plan? If so, consider the following: You can contribute $15,000 ($30,000 if MFJ) each year without having to file a gift tax return. Alternatively, you can elect five-year treatment to save $75,000 ($150,000 if MFJ) which can be done every five years. You may be eligible for state income tax credits if you contribute to a plan sponsored by your state.
 Do you have a Coverdell Education Savings Account? If so, consider the following: Coverdell Education Savings Accounts tend to be more restrictive than a 529 plan. Coverdell Education Savings Accounts can be rolled over to a 529 account, as long as the account beneficiaries are the same.
Do you own Series EE or I Bonds? If so, you may be able to exclude from gross income the interest paid upon the redemption of the bonds to pay for college expenses. Subject to income limitations.

TAX PLANNING ISSUES	YES	NO
Is your MAGI less than $90,000 ($180,000 if MFJ)? If so, you may be eligible for the American Opportunity Tax Credit for 100% of the first $2,000 and 25% of the next $2,000. Phase-out range for a single filer is $80,000-$90,000 ($160,000 - $180,000 if MFJ).
Is your MAGI less than $69,000 ($138,000 if MFJ)? If so, you may be eligible for the Lifetime Learning Tax Credit for 20% of the first $10,000. Phase-out range for a single filer is $59,000-$69,000 ($118,000-$138,000 if MFJ).
Does your state offer a deduction on 529 plan contributions? If so, consider an "in-and-out" strategy where deductions may be allowed on contributions that are immediately withdrawn to pay for college expenses.
Are you eligible for any education tax credits and have a 529 plan?
If so, be aware that there is no double-dipping. See the "Is The Distribution From My 529 Plan Taxable?" flowchart.
Will you or your child have student loans? If so, you can deduct up to $2,500 of interest per tax return. Phase out range for single filer is $70,000 - $85,000 ($140,000- $170,000 if MFJ).

HERE ARE SOME FREE RESOURCES TO HELP:

▼

- 1) Pay yourself first! Target to save 12% to 20% or more of your gross monthly income (including 401k match). Be an aggressive saver.
- 2) If you hire an Advisor, we highly recommend that the advisor be fee-only (not fee-based), low cost, and a fiduciary for you 100% of the time. You don't need to pay 1% for an advisor.
- 3) Read this before you hire an Advisor https://www.integrityia.com/financial-planning-fort-collins-colorado/
- 4) Large tax savings for small business owners (short video) https://www.integrityia.com/large-tax-savings-for-small-business-owners/
- 5) Do you have a Plan? Can you afford your lifestyle in retirement? https://www.integrityia.com/retirement-goals/
- 6) You don't have to pay 1% to get access to DFA funds -
- https://www.integrityia.com/you-dont-have-to-pay-1-for-access-to-dfa-dimensional-funds/
- 7) See our video blog for more updates https://www.integrityia.com/blog-low-cost-dfa-advisor/

Todd Moerman

^{*} This is general information only and not individual advice. Integrity Investment Advisors, LLC is not a CPA firm or an Attorney. To the extent that a reader has any questions regarding the applicability of any specific issue or strategy discussed above to his/her individual situation, he/she is encouraged to consult with the professional advisor of his/her choosing.

todd@integrityia.com | 303-549-4720 | www.integrityia.com